EVACUATION OF CAPITAL BY ZAPATA

Would be No Surprise as Result of New Attacks By General Gonzales

WHO HAS BEEN RECEIVING FRESH REINFORCEMENTS

VILLA PEACE OVERTURES

Heretofore Declined By Carranza, Are Expected to Bear Fruit After a Visit of Latter's Legal Advisers From Washington, In Which Conciliation Will Be Urged—No New Step.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, July 6.—Officials of the Washington government today awaited word of the result of General Pablo Gonzales' renewed attack on Mexico City.

Advices to the Carranza agency here said that Gonzales had begun his attack with fresh reinforcements. The Zapata commanders had prepared to offer determined resistance. It would not be surprising to Washington officials, however, to learn of the evacuation of the Mexican capital by the Zapata army because of a shortage of ammunition.

Miguel Diaz Lombardo, minister for foreign affairs in the northern branch of the convention government of Mexico, was here today with other Villa leaders in an effort to lay their views on the Mexican political situation before officials of the United States. Villa leaders have already told officials of their willingness to enter into negotiations with General Carranza, looking to a restoration of peace in the southern republic.

While Carranza has consistently declined peace overtures by General Villa, Washington officials count upon Charles Douglas, legal adviser here to Carranza, who has gone to Vera Cruz, to persuade the first chief to adopt a more conciliatory attitude towards his opponents. Pending the outcome of Mr. Douglas' mission, however, no new step in the situation will be taken by the Washington government. Meanwhile Villa representatives here hope that if Carranza continues to refuse to change his attitude, the moral support of the United States will be given Villa and Zapata elements so that it can establish a provisional government composed of Carranza generals and leaders regardless of their first chief.

ITALIAN CONSULS LEAVE TURKEY IS REPORT IN BERLIN.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, July 6.—By wireless to Sayville.—The Overseas News Agency today gave out for publication a dispatch under a Constantinople date declaring that the Italian consuls in Turkey were slowly leaving the country and that they probably would be followed by the Italian ambassador. American representatives will take care of Italian interests when the Italians leave. An exception to this is Palestine, where Spain will protect Italian interests.

CARRANZA IS DEFEATED BY VILLA'S MEN

While Attempting to Storm A Fortress and Losses Are Heavy

INFANTRY, ARTILLERY AND CAVALRY WERE ENGAGED

TRAINS FROM MONTEREY

Were Annulled for Passenger Service and Are Used to Transport Military Equipment and Wounded—Estimated That Both Armies Numbered More Than 18,000 Men.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Laredo, Texas, July 6.—Six hundred Carranza troops were killed in an all day battle yesterday in a fruitless attempt to capture Paredon, a Villa stronghold about thirty miles northwest of Monterey, according to reports reaching here today. Eighteen thousand men are said to have been engaged in the battle, with total casualties on both sides of 2,000. Carranza reinforcements renewed the attack today.

It was estimated that Villa's losses equaled those of Carranza. About 8,000 Carranza troops under General Jacinto B. Trevino advanced yesterday morning along the railroad from Villa Garcia, a village about midway between Monterey and Paredon. The advance followed a Sunday truce, during which both sides buried the dead, while during the two weeks of incessant fighting around Villa Garcia, had fallen so thickly as to menace health.

The Carranza officers estimated that Villa had nearly 10,000 men concentrated near Paredon under Generals Urbana and Chao. Their purpose was to halt a Carranza advance on Torreón, about two hundred miles west of Monterey.

Infantry, cavalry and artillery on both sides began the battle about Paredon early yesterday morning. At night the Carranza charges ceased and General Trevino was reported to have failed to gain ground. This morning's reports said however, that he had received reinforcements estimated at 8,000 men and was renewing the attack on the Villa army.

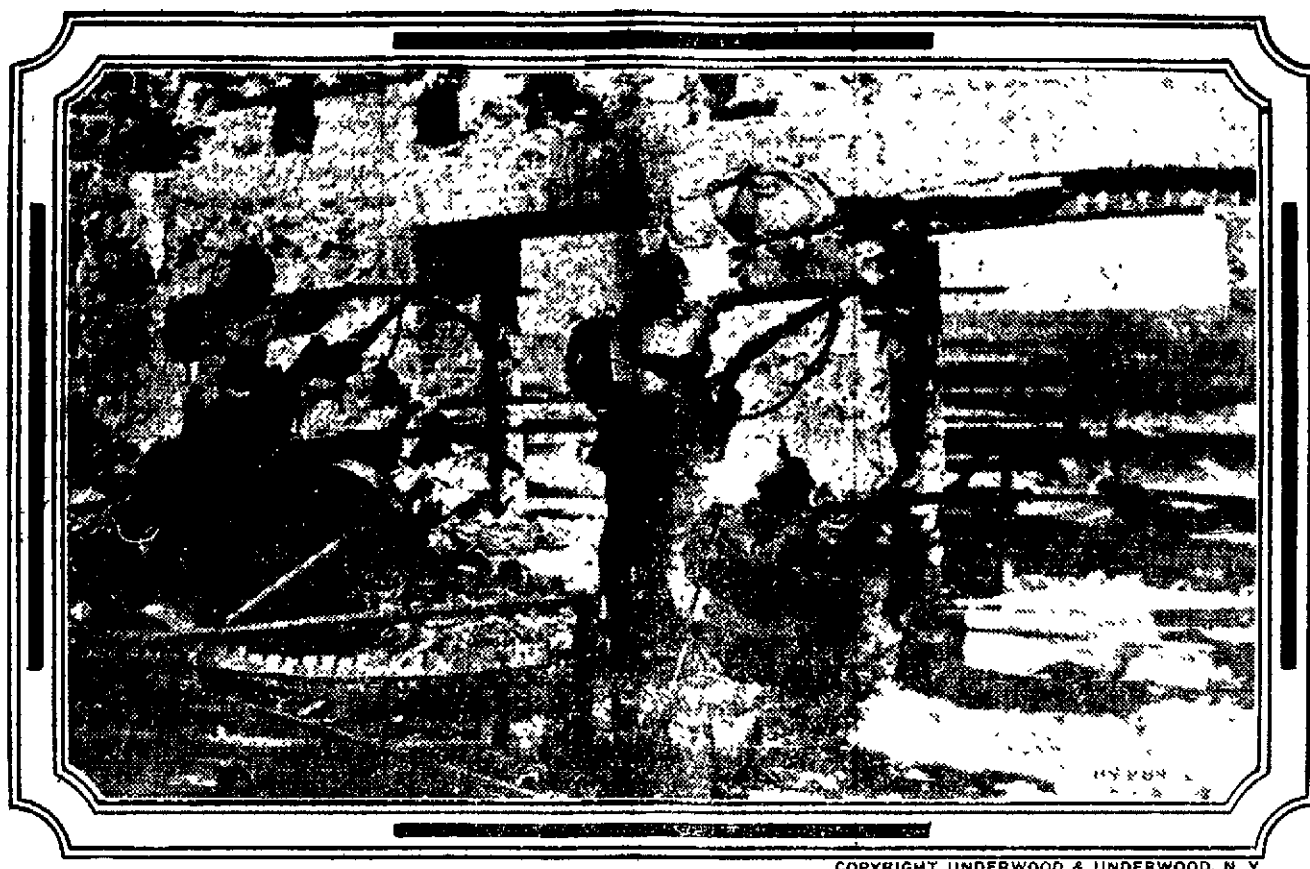

All regular trains out of Monterey have been annulled, being used for transporting military equipment and wounded.

BOSSCOWAN'S CONDITION.

Patrolman Walter Bosscowan, did not rest so comfortably Monday night, and while his condition is satisfactory from a surgical standpoint his nervous system is suffering from the shock. However, he seemed easier this afternoon.

Police activity since the arrest of Charles Athey Saturday evening has continued almost hourly and new developments have come rapidly. Monday the police recovered a trunk from the Robert Forgraves storage house, which when opened revealed a large quantity of clothing, small articles of jewelry and other articles, most of which is no doubt stolen property.

Following the recovery of this trunk, the police took into custody Mrs. Wilbur Sorrel, whose husband was arrested with Charles Athey, Saturday night, and William Athey, a younger brother of the wounded man. Both will be held pending further investigation and there is little doubt that numerous charges of burglary and larceny will be filed against the men.

Included in the property recovered when the trunk was opened, was a quantity of clothing and laundry which was stolen several weeks ago from the Licking Laundry company's plant in Jefferson street. The officers were disappointed in not finding any of the property taken from the Reinhold or McCreery homes.

From the time suspicion was directed against Athey, the police have kept close watch on the movements of those who were believed to be implicated with him in his work.

Saturday a trunk was seen taken to the Forgraves place of business in East Main street opposite the city prison. The officers had reason to believe that it was sent there by Mrs. Sorrel and they made an investigation. Officers Hinger, Abbott and Swinehart were detailed to make an examination of the trunk. It was located and removed to the city prison.

When it was opened and found to contain a part of the laundry stolen from the Licking company, it was removed to police headquarters. The contents of the trunk, when spread out, covered a large table, more than six feet long, most of the chairs in the place and a part of the floor. A part of the property was evidently the personal belongings of Mrs. Sorrel and her husband. But the majority was no doubt stolen property. It was also evident that much of it was not stolen from Newark homes which indicates that those in the party have been doing jobs outside the city.

A portion of the property believed to have been stolen is listed here:

Pair white kid gloves, never worn, trade mark "Beatrice."

Small china vase, souvenir of Las Vegas, New Mex.

Silver backed hairbrush, monogram E. F. S.

Two small jewel cases, evidently new.

Canadian 25-cent note.

Testament, inscribed with name of giver, Robert Northey, and date, Christmas 1914.

Sterling silver spoon, letter "E" engraved on handle.

Clasp to necklace or bracelet, made into a pin, engraved E. P. K. (monogram).

Meerschmum cigar holder, elaborately carved.

Black satin top covered with cut-out imprints from stationery of various colleges and fraternities.

Silver match box, engraved "L. S."

Tobacco Coupons.

Several pairs new silk stockings, numerous pairs worn.

Single barrelled shot gun.

Pair of gold sleeve buttons.

Pencil bearings, imprint of Geo. W. Peck, dry goods store.

Carpenter's brace.

Numerous tools, including pliers, chisels, wrenches, etc.

Canister of tea.

Suits, skirts, undershirts, underwear, shirts, silk dresses and numerous other articles.

Tuesday morning employees from the Licking Laundry visited headquarters and identified much of the laundry, clothing, etc., as part of the stolen property. Most of the articles were easily identified.

An affidavit was ordered prepared at once, charging Charles Athey and Wilbur Sorrel with burglary and larceny. They will be arraigned on this charge Wednesday though there is no date for trial set.

Police Chief Sheridan is anxious to have the other articles identified. If any of the property listed is recognized by the owners, or their friends, such information will be gladly received by the chief who will arrange for an inspection of the property.

Besides this trunk, the police Saturday night recovered from Charles Athey's home, a pocketbook filled with old coins, among them being a Masonic penny issued by Warren Chapter. It is believed that the coins

Evelyn Thaw Obeys Subpoena But Will Not Testify Against Husband Unless Compelled To

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, July 6.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, summoned by the state to testify against Harry K. Thaw, her husband in the jury proceedings to determine his mental condition, reached New York today from her camp at Chateaugay Lake, near Malone, N. Y., and announced that she would stand upon her constitutional rights and would not take the stand against her husband.

Mrs. Thaw made her statement to newspaper men, and when Deputy Attorney General Cook was informed of what she had said, he asserted that inasmuch as the hearing was a civil proceeding and not a criminal case, that the court could direct her to testify and that he would ask the court to so direct.

Mrs. Thaw's appearance did not bear out reports to the effect that she was suffering from nervous prostration. She looked extremely well, was dressed in a dark blue gown with white trimmings, wore a broad brimmed hat trimmed with roses and white kid pumps, edged in black.

"I have spent most of my time out of doors and feel splendid," she said.

"Are you going to testify at the present hearing?" she was asked.

"Take it from me," she declared, with emphasis. "I am not." You come with me and I'll show you that is no jest."

Mrs. Thaw made this declaration at the Grand Central station where she was met upon her arrival. She then walked across the lobby to the ticket office and bought a ticket to Lake Chateaugay, saying that she would take a Montreal express leaving at 9 o'clock tonight.

"Have you engaged counsel?" she was asked.

"No and I don't want any," she said.

"I have obeyed intesousphrdlu "I have obeyed this subpoena," and she flourished the document in her hand, "and will be in court tomorrow." (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4.)

(Associated Press Telegram)

Berlin, July 6.—Via London.—The German army headquarters staff today gave out the following statement:

"In the western theatre—Two French attacks at Les Eparges were repulsed during the night.

"The booty taken after our success in the forest of Le Pretre has been increased by one field gun and three machine guns. Furthermore, a pioneer's supply station with a large amount of material fell into our hands.

"Our aviators attacked the aviation ground at Corieux, east of Epinal and a French camp on the Breifirst, to the east of Krust, in the Vosges.

"In the eastern theatre—A strongly fortified wood to the east of Bieloblot, and west of the road between Suwalki and Kalwaria, was taken by storm early this morning. We took about 500 Russian prisoners.

"In the southeastern theatre—The situation with the German troops is unchanged."

BERLIN ANNOUNCES AEROPLANE ATTACK OF BRITISH FAILED.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Berlin, July 6.—By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—A great British aeroplane attack was directed against the German positions in a German bay of the North Sea on the morning of July 5, according to a German official statement issued under date of July 5. The attack, the announcement adds, failed.

German airships, sighted at dawn, off Terschelling, an island off the Netherlands, the advancing British naval forces. They consisted of several hydro-aeroplanes, motor ships accompanied by a number of cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers. The British vessels were forced to retreat. One British hydro-aeroplane which succeeded in rising in the air was pursued by German aeroplanes but it escaped by flying over Dutch territory.

GERMAN THRUST IN WEST

Against French Positions Apparently Has Not Extended Beyond Infantry Operations By Which Some Trenches Were Recovered—British Chase German Aeroplanes.

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, July 6.—Special correspondents in Petrograd telegraph optimistic predictions concerning a coming Russian campaign for the defense of Warsaw, which forms the center of a vast circle of 100 miles of strong fortifications. Even the fall of the fortress of Ivangorod, according to these correspondents would not mean the loss of the Polish capital.

Fighting described as desperate in the official Petrograd reports is raging between the Vistula and Bug rivers along the base of a triangle of which Warsaw forms the apex. The country there is marshy and it is predicted in London that because of the character of the terrain this campaign will be a constant drain on the German resources until even victory will be almost as costly as defeat.

The German thrust against the French positions to the west of the Moselle river apparently has not extended beyond the infantry attack which regained the trenches previously lost by the Germans; but preparations probably are under way for a further advance, as Paris reports a violent bombardment in this region.

In reply to the German wireless claim of an aerial raid on Land Guard fort at Harwich, the British admiralty states that a German seaplane and an aeroplane, flying at a great height, were pursued by British airmen and forced to drop their bombs harmlessly into the sea.

MONTENEGRINS IN UNITED STATES ARE URGED TO GO HOME

(Associated Press Telegram)

Seattle, Wash., July 6.—Dr. Jovan Matanovich representing Montenegro was here today after having concluded a trip throughout the United States during which he claims to have induced many Montenegro reservists to go home for service in the army. He said that he has obtained five hundred men from the northwest and that these will leave in a few days for their native land, by way of Montreal.

Dr. Matanovich asserted that he has not violated the neutrality of the United States, as he merely induces his countrymen to go of their own free will.

Germany Promises Safety To American Passengers, In A Dispatch to Sec'y Lansing

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, July 6.—The outlook for a favorable settlement of the issue between the United States and Germany over submarine warfare was today regarded as having advanced considerably by the beginning of informal negotiations which, it was believed, would pave the way for an understanding prior to the final drafting of the German reply.

It had not been known until within the last day or two that a preliminary exchange of views was in progress between the two countries regarding the nature of the forthcoming German reply to the last American note.

In official quarters it was believed that a report likely would be received here late today from Ambassador Gerard regarding conferences reported in Berlin dispatches as having taken place last Saturday between the ambassador and officials of the German foreign office. The dispatch said that the ambassador had been given an outline of Germany's reply.

While nothing has been made public concerning Ambassador Gerard's last dispatches, it was understood that he had constantly informed the American government of the gossip in Berlin official quarters regarding the reply. It was said that although he had been unable to learn definitely what the note would outline, he expects Germany to make a counter proposal, which is now being discussed. He has intimated that the reply would be delayed possibly a week.

The fact that negotiations had begun was viewed in many quarters as a favorable sign as furnishing a base on which to work. The object of the German government is to ascertain exactly what modifications of submarine warfare will satisfy the American demand for the protection of its rights without reducing the effectiveness of the submarine as a weapon against Germany's enemies.

Germany, it is known, through official sources is endeavoring to give assurance that ships primarily engaged in passenger traffic will be free from attack without warning, provided there is some certification of inspection guaranteeing in advance the nationality of the vessel on leaving American ports. It is not known what the arrangement will be for vessels devoted principally to carrying contraband.

The United States has always claimed the right for its citizens to travel on all ships, whether or not they carry contraband. It is realized (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2.)

Holt Insane When He Shot Morgan and a Mental Wreck Now, Jail Physician Believes

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, July 6.—Frank Holt, who dynamited the capitol at Washington and shot J. P. Morgan, lay in physical and mental collapse today in his cell at Mineola, Long Island jail. He had promised to tell the whole story of his life when he was arraigned before a justice at Glencove tomorrow, but his condition was such that there was grave doubt whether he could appear in court.

Dr. Guy F. Cleghorn, the jail physician was quoted today as saying that Holt was unsound when he attacked Mr. Morgan, and he is unsound now and that the only place for the man is the Matteawan asylum. The intestinal and stomach troubles he is having are often present it is said, in cases of mental disturbance. He is highly nervous.

To prevent an aggravation of his mental condition, virtually all questions were temporarily excluded from Holt's cell.

Holt was, nevertheless, described as quieter than yesterday when he paced his cell crying that he wanted to die and asking that he be shown a way to do so.

Precautions were taken to prevent him from committing suicide.

Exhaustive inquiries are being made by detectives to trace Holt's career. Federal authorities who had tried to ascertain whether he had bought dynamite to make other bombs besides the one he exploded in the capitol, learned today that a railroad freight agent at Syosset, ten miles from Glencove, had notified the police that a man whom he believed might be Holt had received cases containing 120 pounds of dynamite, fuses, caps and explosives at the Syosset station June 28.

In an attempt to settle the question whether Holt is the Eric Muentner wanted by the police of Cambridge, Mass., an assistant custodian of Harvard university and a Cambridge detective were expected in Mineola today. To his counsel and others, Holt has denied that he is Muentner, or that he was ever at Harvard.

Latest official reports as to the condition of Mr. Morgan placed him out of danger. Additional evidence of confidence in his recovery was seen in the fact that Mr. Morgan's mother had returned to her home in Highland Falls, N. Y.

Holt Attempted Suicide by Cutting Artery In Wrist With Lead Pencil; J. P. Morgan Reported Out of Danger

(Associated Press Telegram)

Glencove, N. Y., July 6.—Frank Holt, J. P. Morgan's assailant, who has also confessed to setting the bomb that exploded in the capitol at Washington last Friday night, attempted to kill himself at midnight by trying to open the artery in his left wrist with a lead pencil.

The attempt was unsuccessful. Holt, lying on his side in a cell in the Nassau county jail at Mineola, was seen by an attendant to writhe with pain. The attendant entered the cell, found blood flowing from the wound, summoned the warden and bound up the wrist, checking the flow of blood.

Notwithstanding the promptness with which Holt's attempt was discovered, he lost a considerable quantity of blood. Holt spent a restless night, tossing about on his cot from which he had been unable to rise during the day, and muttering to himself at intervals. His keepers had taken from him his belt, his suspenders and every other article in his possession with which he thought he could have attempted suicide. He had seemed to be so despondent during the day that a strict watch had been kept upon him.

After several hours had passed without sleep during the early night Holt called to an attendant and asked for a lead pencil. He said he wanted to write to his wife. A lead pencil was brought to him and a few moments later, a pad of paper.

The attendant remained in the cell a few minutes and Holt turned on his left side and apparently started to write.

The attendant then left. Within less than five minutes he passed the door of Holt's cell again. He then noticed that Holt seemed to be in pain, entered the cell and found blood flowing from a jagged cut in his wrist. After the flow of blood had been checked and the wound bandaged, the keeper and Warden Huiz searched for the pencil. They found it on the cot. Holt had extracted the rubber eraser from the tip of the pencil and with his teeth had bitten the metal which held the rubber in position until the edges turned. The result was a sharp blade perhaps a quarter of an inch long. Apparently Holt had not reached the artery. He had cut a vein, however, and from this the blood was flowing. To the warden's questions as to why he had attempted

FRENCH PEOPLE LIBERALLY GIVE GOLD FOR NOTES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, July 6.—The Bank of France has been compelled to designate six receiving tellers to take the gold offered in exchange for notes in consequence of the invitation to the public to turn in its private hoards of gold so as to strengthen the national reserve.

Long lines of persons waited in front of the institution all day yesterday. The largest sum exchanged was $5,000 francs ($17,000), the smallest ten francs. The usual amounts were 1,000 or 2,000 francs.

The certificates given for the gold bore an inscription stating that the exchange was made for "national defense."

HOLT

Dr. Guy Cleghorn, the jail physician, was not summoned because of the lateness of the hour and the evident fact that the attempt had been successfully checked. He was to have visited Holt some time during the forenoon today. The bawdise still remained on Holt's wrist today and it was said that Dr. Cleghorn's attention will be called to the wound. Holt was cheered somewhat today by the receipt of a telegram from his wife at Dallas. It read: "Have best counsel here. Advised to rest and wait and you must do the same. Send loving greetings hourly. Beautiful tribute to you in both evening papers here. I am trying for details of our finances. I will come when you need me. Do not be afraid. Rest."

The telegram was signed Leone. The condition of Mr. Morgan, who is recovering from the two wounds in his left hip inflicted by bullets from Holt's revolver, continued to improve. It was said that Mr. Morgan felt so much better that he wanted to get up, but that this was not approved by his physicians. The physicians feel so discouraged by his progress that they have virtually reached a decision to issue no more bulletins on his condition.

Callers from Cambridge, Mass., were expected at Mineola today to see Holt with a view of determining if he resembles closely Erich Mueunter, who disappeared from Harvard in 1906 after the death of his wife from alleged poisoning.

Holt was considered to be in such a serious physical condition from loss of blood and refusing to eat that forcible feeding and his removal to the Nassau county hospital at Mineola were considered at a conference of county officials.

"I have never seen a man in worse condition," said District Attorney Lewis J. Smith. "Holt is very weak and I should not be surprised if he died. I do not know whether he is trying to starve himself or not; but I do know that he is not eating and that he has lost much blood."

Charles R. Wood, assistant superintendent of buildings at Cambridge, Mass., who knew Mueunter at Harvard, nearly ten years ago, reached Mineola today to see if Holt and Mueunter were the same man. Mr. Wood visited Holt in his cell and remained there a few minutes but did not attempt, because of Holt's weakened condition, to question him.

"There is a remarkably striking resemblance between this man and Mueunter," Mr. Wood said. "But it has been nine years since I saw Mueunter and I cannot say positively that Holt is the man. He certainly looks very much like Mueunter, however."

Charles R. Wood, an assistant district attorney of Nassau county, who knew Mueunter at Harvard, visited Holt again today in an effort to establish his identity if possible. Mr. Wood said that he was still unable to say whether Holt and Mueunter were the same.

The evidence that has been accumulating to support the theory that Holt and Mueunter are the same person was strengthened by the announcement today that an examination of Holt's body had revealed scars which corresponded to a description received by the authorities here today of scars which Mueunter bore on his body. The scars in Mueunter's case were said to have been due to an operation.

Alienists have been asked to come here to make an examination of Holt's mental condition to determine

EVIDENCE

Confidence of the department grows every day in the belief that they have two of the three men who attempted to raid the safe in the Wyeth-Scott Company's office.

"There is no doubt about it," is the emphatic manner in which Chief Sheridan disposes of the question.

Police now have learned that Charles Athey, wounded prisoner at the county jail, who will be charged with shooting Officer Bosscowan, stole a horse and in this manner was able to reach his father's home in the rear of the Hickey Building, though suffering from three bad wounds in his leg.

The police believe that Athey made his way to the barn of Hickman's grocery in Maple avenue and seeing the wagon in the yard was prompted to steal the horse to make his getaway. He rode the animal to his father's home, and there jumped off and by throwing stones at the animal succeeded in driving it away from the vicinity of his hiding place. It was found next morning, though not until it had been reported stolen.

Mr. Hickman was startled to find the animal's left side coated with dried blood, though there was no wound on the animal. It was in just the right position to have come from the wounds in Athey's legs.

The police have also learned that Athey and Sorrel brought home last Thursday night a large quantity of stuff, including the new silk stockings, though no burglary was reported on that night. It is possible that this haul was made out of town.

Still confident that Athey and Sorrel were implicated in the McCleery job, the officers are making an effort to uncover another "plant" where the men have concealed the property stolen from this place.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Mary E. Daugherty, 102 East Church street, called at headquarters and identified a great quantity of the plunder as a part of that stolen from her home about two months ago. Some of the articles taken have not yet been found.

Mrs. Daugherty accompanied by Officer Swinehart visited the Athey home and recovered a number of valuable piumes, articles of clothing, etc. and these were taken to headquarters. A part of the property identified included the kid gloves, silk stockings, other wearing apparel, and the silver backed brush. Much of the property belonged to Miss Bessie Scott.

The opening of the trunk also cleared up the burglary of the D. T. Groves home, south of the city, which was entered a week ago Sunday. A large quantity of silverware belonging to Mrs. Gleason Sutton was identified and returned to the owner.

Sorrell, when confronted with this evidence, admitted that he entered the place but declared that he was alone in the venture.

Tuesday afternoon Police Chief Sheridan ordered the arrest of Mrs. Athey, mother of the two boys in custody. Together with Mrs. Sorrell, she will be charged with concealing stolen property.

If the department succeeds in convicting those now under arrest, of the charge of shooting Officer Bosscowan and of attempting to blow the safe in the Scott-Wyeth office it will be the first instance in the history of the department that a gang of safe blowers has been captured and convicted for such jobs committed in Newark.

Since the latest epidemic of safe cracking developed, the department has striven to get some thread which would lead to the arrest of the cracksmen but there was nothing on which to work until the unsuccessful attempt was made at the Scott-Wyeth company a week ago. The placing of Officer Bosscowan in the office of Mrs. Gleason Sutton shrouded uttering officers their first tangible clue and by working rapidly and following seemingly unimportant clues relentlessly, they were able to secure positive evidence against the suspects now held in custody, connecting them with numerous mysterious burglaries committed recently and securing strong circumstantial evidence against the same men connecting them with the safe blowing jobs.

NARROW ESCAPE OF AN AGED MAN FROM DROWNING

Allen Moore, aged 70, residing a mile east of Wilkins Corners, had a narrow escape from drowning on Sunday. Mr. Moore was attempting to ford the Rocky Fork creek, a mile north of the Mary Ann furnace, when he was caught in the current with his horse and buggy and was washed down the stream, nearly a half a mile. The recent heavy rains had made the small stream a raging torrent, and the horse was unable to keep its footing.

FRENCH REPORT HEAVY LOSSES OF THE ENEMY

ARTILLERY CHECKED GERMAN ATTACKS ON DIFFERENT OCCASIONS.

Town of Arras Bombarded all Night Long—British Capture German Trenches in Belgium.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, July 6.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a statement on the progress of hostilities, which reads as follows:

"Last night showed much activity at several points along the front. In Belgium, the British troops, supported by our artillery, took possession of some German trenches at a point to the southwest of Pilliken on the east bank of the canal. There was a very spirited engagement around the railroad station of Souchez. The station however, remained in our hands in spite of repeated efforts of the enemy to take it.

"The town of Arras was bombarded all night long.

"In the Argonne there was incessant fighting last night with bombs and hand grenades. Our artillery on several different occasions was successful in checking the attacks of the enemy.

"On the heights of the Meuse the Germans attacked on two different occasions our positions on the south side of the ravine of Sonvaux, which is to the east of the trenches of Salonne. They were completely repulsed.

"In the vicinity of Le Pretre forest, the enemy also assumed the offensive. Two attacks were made. One spread little by little, from the western side of the forest as far as Fey-Eu-Haye, while the other was directed particularly against that portion of the forest which is round to the west of Croix-Des-Carnes. Both were checked by the fire of our artillery and our infantry, which inflicted very heavy losses on the enemy."

NO WARNING GIVEN BY BRITISH WHEN SHIPS WERE SUNK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Berlin, July 6.—(By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—Included in the news items given out today by the Overseas News Agency was the following:

"An official report gives full particulars of a number of cases in which British submarines and torpedo boats in Turkish waters had torpedoed without warning, unarmed passenger ships, and even one hospital ship with 700 wounded on board.

"Continuing, this statement points out that while England condemns submarine warfare within a specified war zone as a barbarous, cruel and murderous practice, in violation of international law, she uses the same methods in other parts of the globe which have not been specified as war zones."

Aeroplane Raids.
There is nothing that I know of more hideous than an aerial bombardment. It requires an entire mental readjustment. The sky, which is always symbolized peace, suddenly spells death. Bombardment by the big guns of an advancing army is not unexpected. There is time for flight, a chance, too, for a reprisal. But against these raiders of the sky there is nothing. One sits and waits, and no town is safe. One moment there is a peaceful village with war twenty, fifty miles away. The next minute hell breaks loose. Houses are destroyed, sleeping children die in their cradles, the streets echo and re-echo with the din of destruction. The reply of the anti-aircraft guns is feeble, and at night futile. There is no bustle of escape. The streets are empty and dead, and in each house people, family groups, non-combatants, folk who ask only the right to work and love and live, sit and wait with blanched faces.—Mary Roberts Rinehart in Saturday Evening Post.

Insure Pigs in Sweden.

Though it is commonly known that there is scarcely anything in the world that cannot be insured, the layman would probably hesitate before he hastened to Lloyd's to insure his pigs. In Sweden, however, no difficulties stand in his way. In fact, there are several competing companies all anxious to insure the lives of pigs belonging to the small farmer. But as yet the industry has not developed as much as it might, since out of the 700 Swedish institutions which insure live stock there are only forty which insure pigs. These societies are most numerous in the thickly populated districts, where they insure pigs only. The pigs insured must be at first in good condition, and the agencies refuse to pay if the animals die in consequence of ill treatment or neglect.—Boston Transcript.

How to Treat a Fracture.

Be very careful with a single fracture to prevent it from becoming compound. The proper treatment is to pad and bandage the limb with splints and anything else which can be improvised, so as to hold it steadily in position until your injured man can be carried comfortably to the camp or nearest doctor. Don't get jolting him or handling him with anything but the greatest tenderness. If there are no chances of getting a doctor, cut all the clothing away from the injured limb, and when you have it bare get some one else to help you, if you can. Pull straight on the end of the injured limb farthest away from the body, and as gently and firmly as possible manipulate the broken bone into position. You will know when this is done by the shape of the limb.—Outing.

Business Advertising in 1748.

Judging from many advertisements in the early New York newspapers, the numbers of buildings were very little used. Business houses were usually designated by a characteristic sign or by the locality to other well known residents. An example of the latter is seen in the following from the New York Gazette of December, 1748. Smith's Fly was at the foot of Maiden Lane.

"Henry Hansen, who lately kept his store next Door to Mr. John Groesbeck's, is now removed to Capt. Richard Langdon's, in Smith's Fly opposite to Col. De Peyster's, Treasurer, where he now keeps his Store. He has likewise imported in the last Ships from London, a fresh Assortment of European Goods."

Mother's Constancy.

There is an enduring tenderness in the love of a mother for a son that transcends all other affections of the heart. It is neither to be chilled by selfishness nor daunted by danger nor weakened by worthlessness nor stifled by ingratitude. She will sacrifice every comfort to his convenience; she will surrender every pleasure to his enjoyment; she will glory in his fame and exult in his prosperity, and if misfortune overtakes him he will be the dearest to her through his misfortunes, and if disgrace settles upon his name she will still love and cherish him in spite of his disgrace, and if all the rest of the world casts him off she will be all the world to him.—New York Weekly.

Hart's No-Hit Game Feature Of Holiday at Wehrle Park; Afternoon Game Lost In Tenth

Newark and Findlay broke even in the holiday events at Wehrle Park, Red Hart shutting out the Chapman squad in the morning contest not allowing a hit. The score was 6 to 0. In the afternoon another beautiful contest was staged, both teams going scoreless for nine innings when Findlay broke loose with two singles and a double which netted three runs.

Both games were poorly attended. Counter attractions probably were responsible for a part of the loss while indifference to the game may be credited with its share.

Not more than 300 attended the morning session and the afternoon crowd was not near double that number.

The morning contest was as pretty a baseball game ever played at Wehrle Park. Red Hart pitched masterful ball. There was nothing resembling a hit in the nine innings he pitched.

But three men reached first. Blue drew a pass in the fourth and Werner followed, was hit by the pitcher.

In the seventh, Werner got a lift on Roubush's fumble of the Findlay man's easy grounder.

Snappy fielding by Judge, Strawn and Wratten made the game one good to look upon.

For Newark, a pass to Pearce, in the fourth, singles by Reese and Judge with a double steal by Pearce and Reese scored two runs after two men were out.

Another crossed the rubber in the sixth when Roubush doubled and scored on Chapman's error. He dropped an easy throw from Blue.

In the eighth, Newark added three for good measure. Long hit safely after Hart tanned. Wratten hit to left field and his hit when returned to the diamond, was muffed by Bresnahan, allowing Long to score.

Roubush hit to Blue who returned the ball to the plate to stop Wratten. The ball was tossed back and forth between McGovern and Bresnahan until Mack fumbled and Wratten came home, allowing Roubush to reach third. Bunn's hit, for which he did not get credit, scored Roubush. The ball skinned along the bag, foul line, hopping the bag, Pearce watched the course of the ball. He thought it was a foul as it struck his foot. Reese ended the inning by fanning.

doubled and Costello's single brought him home. Newark had a splendid opportunity to score in the ninth when Wratten was hit by the pitcher and was advanced by Roubush's sacrifice. Pearce was purposely walked. Reese fanned. Judge was walked, filling the corners. Strawn's best effort was a foul which McGovern bagged thus defeating the Wratten crowd. The score:

NEWARK PUG FALLS FROM RING IN COLUMBUS BOUT

Columbus, July 6.—Cal Delaney of Cleveland, beat Joe Dailey of Pittsburgh, in their 12-round bout before the Welcome club at Nelt Park here yesterday afternoon. It was a funny finish. The blow that put Dailey on the mat was landed as the final gong sounded in the last round. The referee counted him out. It was unnecessary to count Dailey out, however, as he was all through, and it was some time after he had been carried to his corner before he had revived enough to remove him from the ring. It was Delaney's bout all the way, and as early as the fourth round he knocked Dailey down for the count of seven, and several times it looked as though Delaney would bring the answer. In only one round did Dailey do any damage. This was the tenth, when he had Delaney plainly tired, but it was only temporarily, and the Cleveland boy came back strong and put over the finish recorded above. It was the first bout ever held in the American Association—Baseball Park in this city, and drew a crowd of about 3,000 people.

In the other bouts Homer Thomas beat Bud Castle in six rounds; Battling Wells of Newark lost to Jack Allen of Springfield, when he fell out of the ring in the second round and was unable to continue; Young Monte of Columbus also lost through falling out of the ring in the first round of his scheduled four-round bout with Dewey Martin.

That falling-out-of-the-ring stuff sounds funny, perhaps, but that is just what happened. The ropes were not drawn tight enough and they were right at the edge of the platform. Two of the boys injured their legs so badly that they were unable to continue.

Battling Wells of Newark and Jack Allen of Springfield started out to mix for six rounds. They went the first round with the Battler having a shade of the proceedings. They came out for the second and were at it hammer and tongs when Allen pushed Wells off the platform through the ropes. The Battler's leg was injured so badly that he could not continue.

RICKENBACHER WINS 300-MILE EVENT AND $6,500

Omaha, July 6.—Eddie Rickenbacher won the 300-mile automobile Speedway race yesterday. His time was 3:17:27.20, an average of 91.07 miles an hour. Rickenbacher led from the start and his advantage was never in danger. O'Donnell was second; Tom Orr, third, and H. Donaldson fourth. Rickenbacher's share of the $15,000 prize money was $6,500. Rickenbacher's laurels were won with comparative ease. He kept ahead of the field throughout the 300-mile grind.

Before the race, Tom Orr broke the world's record for five miles, negotiating it in three minutes flat. The former record was 3:11 3-4, made by Caleb Bragg at Los Angeles.

WALTERS A WINNER. Galesburg, Ill., July 6.—Joe Walters won the 100-mile professional motorcycle race here yesterday in 1:37:03 2-5. There were no accidents.

Recreation and Amusement Enjoyed by Newark People At Several Places On the Holiday

White Athletic Field, Moundbuilders' Park, Buckeye Lake, the Country Club grounds, and Wehrle Baseball park were the places where Newark people celebrated the Fourth of July, on Monday.

The central idea had been to make the celebration an "Americanization Day" with special reference to a recognition of the foreign born in Newark, and these men took to the proposition with intelligence and seeming enthusiasm. These exercises had been planned to take place in the afternoon at White Athletic Field, and a large crowd was in attendance.

The parade to White Athletic field formed on Second street and was led to the playground by the Buckeye Band. Company B. O. N. G. followed the band and after them came about 200 foreigners with their band. There were about 120 members of Daica Triana and about 80 members of Lumina Quilei. Merion Marion and John Marion are presidents of these societies respectively.

After marching to the playground attended by a large crowd the Buckeye Band gave a short concert in the speakers' stand. Dr. C. H. Stull delivered the invocation.

Mayor R. C. Bigbee then introduced the first speaker on the program, Judge T. B. Fulton. Judge Fulton gave a short talk and urged that we show a deep responsibility to our country, to our fellow citizens and to our flag, the Stars and Stripes.

The speaker also urged that we aim high and have high ideals. The address ended with a stirring appeal always to have a deep respect for the flag.

Under the leadership of F. L. Johnson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. the crowd then sang "America."

C. L. H. Long, editor of the American Tribune, was then introduced by Mayor Bigbee and he extended a welcome to the Roumanians.

Rev. G. B. Smith, minister of the First M. E. church of Bellaire, O., then addressed the assembly. Rev. Smith believes that the United States is a great country and pointed out the advantages of location that the people of the United States had. He expressed a deep appreciation of the playground and the work it is doing and said that this, the White playground, was one of the best that he knew of and would always be remembered by him.

Mayor Bigbee introduced M. Marion president of the Dacia Triana, who addressed the crowd in Roumanian which he then translated into English. In broken English he told of his deep love for the flag and gave assurance that his fellow-countrymen felt the same way.

O. E. Hunt gave a reading, Drake's "Ode to the Flag."

After the speakers left the stand the Buckeye band gave a concert the rest of the afternoon.

The speakers' stand was placed between two trees and a large flag suspended over the stand from the trees. The stand and the trunks of the trees were wrapped with bunting. It was a very pleasing sight.

The races and sport events were held on the track. The following were the winners in the different events:

75-yard dash for boys of 10 and under—Burr McKnight first; Stewart Donnet, second; Kenneth Tusch, third.

50-yard dash for girls of 10 and under—Helen Voreb, first; Elizabeth Crisswell, second; Helen Kelly, third.

ESTABLISHED IN 1820.

Entered at Second Class Matter March 10, 1882, at the Postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under Act of March 6, 1879.

Newark's celebration of Americanization day at White Athletic field was a distinct success. A safe and sane program always pays.

The Liberty bell now on its way to the San Francisco exposition has been mute since 1835, but it illustrates the saying that "silence speaks louder than words."

Mr. Jupiter Pluvius, kindly suspended operations long enough for us to observe Americanization day at White Athletic field and it really looks today as if it would quit raining between showers.

Developments of the week indicate that the charge made at the last State Grange meeting that certain members of the executive committee were endeavoring to play politics through the organization were true. Referring to these certain members as the "all for one and one for all coterie," James W. Faulkner, tabulating the list, shows that Renick W. Dunlap has been endorsed for secretary of the new board of agriculture; T. C. Laylin for member of the board of control of the Ohio Experiment Station and George F. Scott for head of the dairy and food department. Mr. Faulkner calls attention to the fact that the "Jean of Arc of the movement, Hon. Mary E. Lee" is yet unattached and awaiting engagement, and that she is the last member of the Republican Executive Committee without a job.

As a result of errors of omission and commission by the Willis legislature, Attorney General Edward C. Turner is going to be kept pretty busy. After putting up to him for an opinion the irregularly passed civil service ripper, and an invalided bond section of the Cass highway bill, other troubles with enactments are being found in profusion. Most serious however is the highway bill which is so badly constructed and misfit as to seriously jeopardize future highway work until the meeting of another legislature. Added to the fact that blunders in the law are numerous, is the present condition in which the highway commissioner openly violates the law providing for a bi-partisan commission, and the connection with certain road building concerns through Peter Durr, of Hamilton county, which makes the next two years of road building in Ohio a questionable quantity.

The Toad.

The toad lives from 10 to 40 years, and it can lay over a thousand eggs a year. It has lived two years without food, but cannot live long under water. It never takes dead or motionless food. It captures and devours wasps, yellow-jackets, ants, beetles, worms, spiders, snails, bugs, grasshoppers, weevils, caterpillars, moths, etc. In twenty-four hours the toad consumes enough food to fill its stomach four times. A single toad will in three months devour over 10,000 insects. If every ten of these would

Shutting Out the Light.

There are penitentiaries in some of our States which prevent prisoners from writing to their friends more than one letter a week—in some penitentiaries the rules may be even stricter. There is no limit to the number of letters a prisoner is allowed to receive, but they must be confined strictly to "business" and family matters. No newspapers or periodicals are allowed to be received unless sent direct from publishers. It may be good policy to put some men behind bars and shut out physical light from them; but how the State can benefit by shutting out light from the minds of these prisoners we do not pretend to know. Perhaps some penitentiary warden can tell us. Here is a real subject for prison reformers.—Colliers Weekly.

Two Still in Trim.

The Sultan of Turkey has undergone an operation which at his age and in his physical condition is not free from danger. King Constantine of Greece is by no means recovered from his own surgical experience. However, two of the Balkan sovereigns are still in fighting trim; and the aged and feeble Peter of Serbia cannot help fighting.—New York World.

The Reason.

The reason you laugh when you see your enemy sit down on a freshly painted bench in a park is not because you don't love him, but because you rejoice in the circumstance that the justice of heaven has overtaken him.—Houston Post.

The Backward Yaqis.

Not having pulled off a conspicuous atrocity as yet, the Yaqis are hard pushed to support their claims to civilization.—Washington Post.

Cause and Effect.

The United States Steel Company's plants are working to 75 per cent of capacity—a gain from 45 per cent within a few months. Less than a fifth of the increase represents foreign war orders; the rest indicates a revival of building in this country. It was inevitable that when materials and labor reached bottom capital would take advantage of so favorable opportunity to employ them in works which under any circumstances must needs be constructed.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Abandoned Farms.

There are no longer any abandoned farms in the State of Connecticut. It is officially stated. This is due to advertising. A few years ago such farms were plentiful in that State, as they are still to a considerable extent in New York State, and in still lesser degree in Pennsylvania. Thousands of Connecticut farms have been bought in recent years, principally by newcomers from Europe, who being accustomed to land service there naturally sought land here. They took hold of these old farms, most of them pretty well worn out, at low prices, and by diligent labor and wise methods have restored them now yielding a fair living, according to reports by State authorities.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Intervention will unite Mexicans, it is said. Well, since nothing else seems likely to, that may be urged as a reason for trying it.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A SUFFICIENCY.

It's good to have the dollars, enough to buy cigars, and handsome linen collars, and maybe motor cars. It's good to have a plenty to keep the wolf away, and lay up ten or twenty rolls for the rainy day. All joys would be more stable, and life would be less tough, if man were only able to quit when there's enough! If he could view his bundle, and say, "Well, now, I'm done! Henceforth I'll gladly trundle around and have some fun! I have enough dollars to keep me till I croak, so I'll just play my masters and you may watch my smoke." But no man ever confesses that he has got enough; while life lasts he carresses his pile of yellow stuff. "Another year of scratching, and I will be on top; just now I've schemes a-hatching, and really I can't stop." And when the year is ended, he still keeps up the fight; his winnings have been splendid, but there are more in sight. And thus he keeps on canning the huddle for his heirs; and thus he keeps on planning to rest in easy chairs. Death comes, the man inviting to cross to yonder shore, and finds him madly fighting for more, and always more.

When Conflict Ceases Nations Will Return to Former Friendship

By Father BERNARD VAUGHAN, England, Noted Priest and Author

AFTER hostilities cease there is sure to be a return to friendship between England and Germany.

Blood is thicker than water, love more natural than hate; so, no matter what may be the present shout of prophecy, you may be sure that time, which softens all things, WILL HEAL OUR WOUNDS AND KNOT OUR SCARS AND, WHAT IS MORE, UNITE OUR HANDS WITH OUR HEARTS. WE FEEL IT OUR DUTY TO RESIST WITH VEHEMENCE, BUT NOT WITH HATRED. In the land where for nearly eighteen months I was an enchanted guest and where north and south seemed to vie with each other in making me feel at home I often paused, almost wondering if the civil war in America was a fact of history and not the fiction of romance.

WHY, NORTH AND SOUTH ARE TODAY AFTER THAT WAR AS CLOSELY UNITED AND FOLDED TOGETHER AS MY OWN TWO HANDS WHEN KNEELING IN PRAYER!

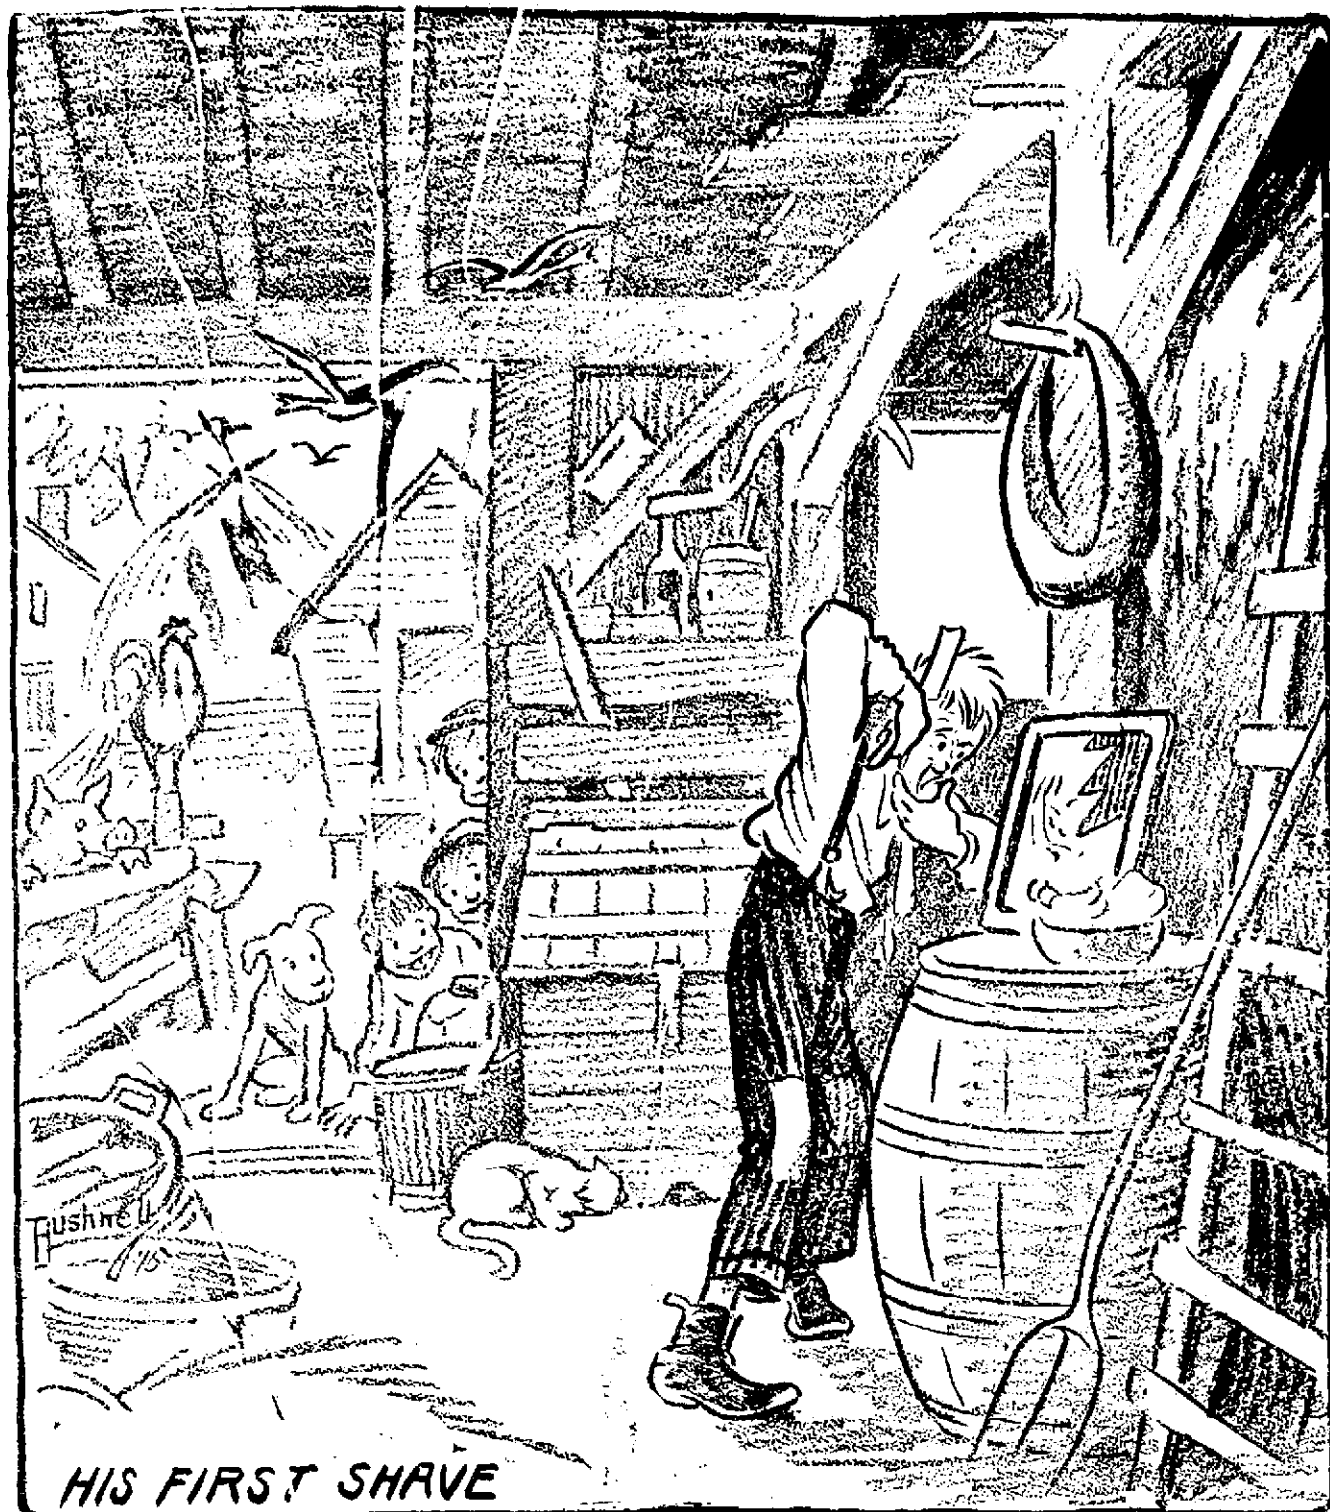

His First Taste of Discipline. Admiral Jonett, probably one of the jolliest seadogs our navy ever knew, once told an amusing story of his early days as a cadet.

"I was a sociable youngster," he says, "and when I went to my first assignment, the Independence, and saw the stars and stripes floating over it I remembered my mother had taught me that my first duty was to the flag, so I attempted some conversation on this line with the executive officer who had received me when I came on board and who was one of the strictest disciplinarians in the navy of that day.

"Silence, sir!" he roared at my first question, his face red with anger. "Silence, sir! Who gave you permission to speak? Let me hear only six words from you, sir, while you are on this ship—'port,' 'starboard,' 'yes, sir,' and 'no, sir.'"

"And this was my first discipline in the navy."

WHEN FATHER WAS A BOY.

HIS FIRST SHAVE

A Little Fun

The First.

When their first son was born, Adama is thought by some critics to have remarked, not without much acerbity: "Red hair! Wouldn't that jar you?"

"Well, I am not presenting you with any gold-headed canes, if I know myself!" retorted Eve, affecting indifference, albeit secretly mortified to death.—Puck.

How Can He Help It?

"That man Smithers is the most self-controlled individual I ever knew."

"In what way?"

"He owns a big, powerful car and yet he hasn't to my knowledge, told a funny forestory for three days!"—Whitaker Paragraphs.

Making Housekeeping Easy.

"Barbara turned and swept the room with a gesture."—Good Housekeeping Magazine. If all women could get away with housecleaning so easily, married life would be more popular.—Akron Beacon Journal.

Exacting.

"Does a woman, when she's married, expect her husband to tell her his business affairs?"

"I don't know; but a woman expects a man to talk business when he's courting her."—Columbus Citizen.

Idea Good—Judgment Poor.

Husband (at dinner)—This lettuce is something fierce. Did you wash it?

Young wife—Of course I did—and I used perfumed soap, too.—Indianapolis Star.

Nearly Lost.

She—If you could have only one wish, what would it be?

He—It would be that—that—

Oh, if I only dared tell you what it would be!

She—Well go on! Why do you suppose I brought up the wishing subject?—Chicago Herald.

The Wise Fool.

"Oh, I don't know!" commented the fool. "Lots of men get married twice."

Dead.

A race horse died in Ezra Bings. His days are filled with strife; He plays a lot of dead sure things That never come to life.

Paw Knows Everything.

Willie—Paw, are all of the men fools? Paw—No, not all of them, my son. Some of them are bachelors.

"Your wife dresses rather quietly," remarked the friend.

"She has to," replied the husband. "She usually has her mouth filled with hairpins."

Keeping It.

A woman's age is hard to tell. She keeps it a sealed page; She never keeps her youth as well As she can keep her age.

Fried—Fish.

The Bridgeport Telegram chips in with this contribution to Luke McLuke's "cognomens is cognomens" carnival:

"In another town a marriage license was recently issued to Abram Fried and Etta Fish. And the marriage was last Friday. And we're not kidding you a bit, either."—Zanesville (O.) Signal.

Thank!

Bill Nye has gone, so has Mark Twain, But our dear Luke's still here; We'll give him a niche in the hall of fame, And his memory will always be dear.

"You know a * * * car when you see it, don't you?" Attorney Howth cross examined the witness.

"Yes, sir; I know a * * * when I see one," she replied.

"Now, was this car that passed your house on that morning a * * * car?"

"No, sir; it wasn't a * * *," the witness replied. "It was built more like an automobile."—Bay City (Tex.) Tribune.

Our Daily Special.

A short answer is long remembered.

Luke McLuke Says: Always remember that if you try to live a double life you will have to do two men's work.

What has become of the old fashioned country lad whose daddy made him walk to church barefooted, but who had to stop and put on his socks and shoes before he entered the church? We all believe in heaven. But mighty few of us live as though we wanted to be sure of getting there when we die.

When a princess purchases a six carat diamond for 60 cents she has to feel her chin every two seconds to make sure that her chin is still there.

When they are first married they know that filthy lucre can never come between them and that money can never disturb the happiness of their great love. And about a year later they have a battle every Saturday because he is short a dollar in his pay.

Of course we will have to admit that the men are a lot of mutts and that they do a lot of fool things at times. But until we see two of them kiss when they meet on the street we are going to maintain that they have more sense than women.

It has got so in this country that success means losing your health hunting for wealth so you will have enough money to travel around and try to regain your health.

The old time fads who did their traveling in the prairie schooners never worried about icebergs or torpedoes, and they saw America first.

Any old time man goes to the races and buys a ticket on a horse that is an eleven-year-old maiden which is half turtle and half snail and the rest of the horses in the race fall down and break their legs and his horse wins he spends the rest of his life telling his friends that Pittsburgh Phil and Riley Granman were blind babies at the racing game.

This business of naming babies after presidents has its drawbacks. In a few years from now many a public school yard will be the scene of many a rough and tumble fight between William Howard Taft Smith and Theodore Roosevelt Jones.

What Color Is a Dandelion?

What color is a dandelion? That question led Richard Jeffries a search through science, art and nature, and his essay ends with the dismal wall. "There are a million books, and yet with all their aid I cannot tell the color of the May dandelion." The nearest he could come to it was to say "yellow-gold-orange," which string of words suggests the gypsy name for this flower, "Queen's great hairy dog flower." It is sensitive in its coloring, absorbing from its neighbor and changing with climatic conditions. But no matter what one calls its color it is emblazoned on the minds of the majority as "golden," and in this case the majority rules. It is spring's largesse, scattered with lavish hand to rich and poor, as welcome in many cases as it is were the real five dollar piece which it so nearly resembles, and the first dandelion will always touch the heart in much the same manner as the first robin's notes.—Smith Graham Morrison in Countryside Magazine.

TO ACQUIRE CURLY HAIR OVER NIGHT

[The Beauty Seeker]
There's a good news, indeed, in the announcement that so simple a method as applying plain liquid silmerine to the hair will make it beautifully curly and wavy over night. The hair dries in lovely waves and ringlets that are perfectly natural in appearance, and there is nothing sticky, greasy or unpleasant about it. The liquid, which is of course quite harmless, also serves as a splendid dressing for the hair, keeping it delightfully glossy and supple. If one will procure a few ounces of liquid silmerine from the druggist, she will have enough to keep the hair in curl for weeks. It should be applied at night with a clean tooth brush. In the morning the hair will be very prettily waved without having that burnt, bleached look acquired by using a heated iron.

at the conservatory, and has won for himself an enviable reputation as a tenor singer, in the music circles of Cincinnati. The program arranged is a delightful one and the cause for which the recital is given, the benefit of the Public Library, should insure a large audience. No admission is charged but a silver offering will be taken.

YOUTHFUL, WRINKLELESS SKIN EASY TO HAVE

You who desire to retain a youthful appearance will do well to make the acquaintance of the two simple, but valuable, prescriptions here given. To make an effective wrinkle remover, mix an ounce of powdered saffron and a half pint of water. Bathe the face in the solution—immediately every evening. It acts wonderfully on sagging facial muscles, also, the lotion possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties. To get rid of an aged, faded, freckled or discolored complexion, buy an ounce of common mercuric iodine and apply nightly as you would cold cream, erasing this morning with soap and water. This will slowly absorb the undesirable surface skin, revealing the younger, brighter, healthier skin underneath. There's nothing to equal this treatment as a facial rejuvenator.

BODY SCARS

SUGGESTED BY TEACHER AT CHICAGO, MAY IDENTIFY HOLT WITH MURDER.

Brother of Dead Woman Sees Resemblance Between Holt and Former Harvard Instructor

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Chicago, July 6.—Professor Maxwell Crowe, a teacher at the University high school of this city, suggested today that the identity of Frank Holt, who shot J. Pierpont Morgan, might be cleared up by looking for certain scars on his body.

"Photographs and Holts conduct suggested strongly to me that he is really Erich Muentner, who disappeared nine years ago, after the death of his wife," said the Professor. "However, there were scars on Muentner's body left by repeated operations for a chronic malady which should show on Holt if they are the same person."

"Muentner and I were married about the same time in 1902 and we went to live in the same flat building. He was brilliant and a tireless student."

"Before I ever saw the photograph of Holt, I thought he might be Muentner, although for years I had believed the latter dead."

"The suggestion came to me when I was reading 'Holt's Story'."

Ottmar M. Krembs, a brother of Muentner's wife said today that he would go east to assist in clearing up Holt's identity. He has a number of photographs of Muentner, some of them without the beard, and he declared that the likeness between the smooth-faced pictures of Muentner and those of Holt were striking.

The Psychology of Practice.

The question of short versus long periods of practice in training the human muscles for any particular kind of work is obviously one having far-reaching application. Some interesting experiments on this subject have been carried out by Dr. K. S. Lashley of Johns Hopkins university. Acquisition of skill in archery was selected as the subject of observation. Twenty untrained persons were divided into three groups. One group shot five arrows with the English longbow per day; another twenty shots per day and the third forty shots. The result showed conclusively that the group shooting only five times a day improved in accuracy with less expenditure of time in practice than was required by either of the other groups for the same amount of improvement. A report on the experiments says: "The relatively greater efficiency of short periods of practice continuing for many days is in accordance with the results of the study of animals and of speech habits in man and indicates that in training muscular feats, in both animals and men, the length of practice periods required is usually too great for maximum efficiency."—Philadelphia Record.

The City of Pola.

Since the Austrians made the city of Pola their chief base in 1918 they have accomplished wonders there. It is claimed that with the assistance of submarines and aircraft Pola is virtually impregnable. Its commodious harbor, almost land locked, has been enlarged so that it easily contains the entire Austrian fleet. It is divided into two basins by a chain of small islands. The entrance is strongly defended, and an extensive system of fortifications on the hills inclosing the harbor insures complete protection. There is a good roadstead in the large channel of Passana, which separates the mainland from the Brionian islands. The marine arsenal of Pola is a vast establishment with all the requisites for a large fleet. Artillery laboratories and powder magazines are situated on the north shore, and behind the arsenal is San Polcarpo, with huge barracks and hospitals.

Byron's Famous Swim.

Byron was cruising up the Dardanelles in a British warship, the Salsette, when he accomplished his famous swim from Abydos to Sestos, the distance (a little over four miles) being covered in seventy minutes. "You will smile at this exploit," the poet wrote to R. C. Dallas in a letter describing the swim, "but as it made an ancient immortal I see no reason why a modern may not be permitted to boast of it, particularly as I had no mistress to comfort me at landing."

According to Iliobhouse, his traveling companion, Byron "had previously made a more perilous but less celebrated passage, for I recollect that when we were in Portugal he swam from Old Lisbon to Belem castle and, having to contend with a tide and counter-current, the wind blowing freshly, was but little less than two hours in crossing the river."—Pall Mall Gazette.

He Wouldn't Give Thanks.

An eighteenth century clerical humorist, one Thom of Govan, the Glasgow Herald states, had no great fondness for days of national fasting or even of thanksgiving. At the close of the American war he commenced a sermon thus: "My friends, we are commanded by royal authority to meet this day for the purpose of public thanksgiving. Now, I should like to know what it is we are to give thanks for. Is it for the loss of thirteen provinces? Is it for the slaughter of so many thousands of our countrymen? Is it for so many millions of increased national debt? I see, my friends, you are all laughing at me, and I am not surprised at it, for were I not standing where I am I would be laughing myself."

Politeness in China.

In China parents are held responsible for the manners of their children. Accordingly, for the credit of their parents, people try to be polite. If you are mobbed in a Chinese town you should look straight at one or two of the people and say: "Your parents did not pay much attention to your manners. They did not teach you the rules of propriety." A remark like this will make the crowd sink away, one by one, ashamed of themselves.

Novel Proposal.

"Have you ever been engaged to be married before?" asked the young man. "Yes, six times," replied the sweet young thing. "Well, if your hand is not working just now I'd like to ask for it."—Yonkers Statesman.

Baby Army Officers.

It used to be the custom in England to buy commissions in the army for infants, and then they would be promoted as vacancies occurred. In this way a boy would have high rank when he was old enough to become a real soldier.

ENTHUSIASM

CHARACTERIZED THE CELEBRATION OF FOURTH OF JULY AT GRANVILLE.

Patriotic and Civic Spirit Shown in a Safe and Sane Observance.—Granville News.

[Special to The Advocate]

Granville, July 6.—Not since the Centennial, ten years ago, has Granville been so united and so enthusiastic in its demonstrations of patriotic and civic spirit as was shown yesterday in its third annual observance of a safe and sane Fourth. Nature herself seemed to smile on the auspicious occasion, as the sun made an early appearance after two days of rain and storm, which seemed to set at naught man's best laid plans—except for the well filled "Broadway Pools," however, there was nothing to mar the carefully prepared program, which was given as scheduled by the various committees. The parade under the direction of Field Marshal, Roe Morrow, was a fine exhibition of local enterprise, including several beautiful, symbolic floats, scores of automobiles, horse drawn vehicles, fantastics, etc. greatly enjoyed by hundreds of people along the line of march, which was north on Pearl, east to Granger, south to Broadway, west to Shepardson College, counter march on Broadway and east to the old G. F. C. grounds where the picnic dinner under direction of Mr. A. K. Follett and a competent committee was held. Seating accommodations were provided for several hundred people at tables beautifully spread as for a banquet.

Following the dinner, the real significance of the day's doings was embodied in the program furnished by Superintendent Strong's committee, which was as fine an "Americanization" exercise as could be found in this country.

Dr. W. A. Chamberlain presided, introducing the various performers in his happiest manner, music by the famous Granville High School Band opened the program, invocation by Rev. E. D. Barnes followed by music by a double quartet, the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Madie Sayre; the raising of the colors, to the bugle call sounded by Prof. Ernest Shepardson; saluting the flag; music by Miss Chrysler and several school children. Prof. Chamberlain then made some introductory remarks in an earnest and eloquent manner, introducing at the close the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Charles W. Montgomery of Newark, a well known and highly honored alumnus of Denison University. The grounds were crowded and the hundreds of people listened with intense interest to one of the best speeches ever heard in Granville. Despite the handicap of "an all out door" auditorium, a brisk wind and the inevitable restlessness of those obliged to stand, the speaker's voice easily carried to the remotest fringes of the crowd and he was frequently applauded. Rev. David Barre, the new rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, also pleased the audience by the remarks he was called upon to make. The athletic events were given on the business block and were witnessed by hundreds of people, the scorers were Prof. C. D. Coons and Mr. Frank L. Ferguson. The judges were: Messrs. Burton Case and L. A. Austin.—The winners in the events were:

Wastes Enough Food to Feed a City of a Hundred Thousand People

Investigation on South Water Street, the great produce market of Chicago, has just revealed that enough fruit, vegetables, butter and eggs are wasted there each year, to feed a city the size of Dayton, Ohio; Albany, New York; and Nashville, Tennessee.

The photographs shown on this page were taken last week and they illustrate how the poor of Chicago forage in the swill barrels after the day's business is over.

The terrific waste has caused considerable thought on the part of the city authorities in Chicago, and plans are being made to move South Water Street to a place where the delay that causes spoilage can be eliminated. Today, strawberries, oranges, cabbage, lettuce, butter, eggs and other products are all delayed in getting to the congested produce district, which happens to be just four blocks from the busiest corner in the world.

Even South Water Street merchants realize their bad situation, and are seeking a remedy.

ALL DRIVERS OF WORKHORSES PLEASE NOTICE

Hére are hot weather rules prepared by the Boston Work-Horse Association. The owner and driver of every work horse is invited to clip out, preserve and observe these rules:

1. Load lightly, and drive slowly.
2. Stop in the shade if possible.
3. Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working, water in small quantities will not hurt him. But let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still. Do not fail to water him at night after he has eaten his hay.
4. When he comes in after work, sponge off the harness marks and sweat, his eyes, his nose and mouth, and the dock. Wash his feet but not his legs.
5. If the thermometer is 75 degrees or higher, wipe him all over with a damp sponge. Use vinegar water if possible. Do not turn the hose on him.
6. Saturday night, give a bran mash, lukewarm; and add a tablespoonful of saltpetre.
7. Do not use a horse-hat, unless it is a canopy-top hat. The ordinary bell-shaped hat does more harm than good.
8. A sponge on top of the head, or even a cloth, is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.
9. If the horse is overcome by heat, get him into the shade, remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over, shower his legs, and give him two ounces aromatic spirits of ammonia, or two ounces of sweet spirits of nitre, in a pint of water; or give him a pint of coffee warm. Cool his head at once, using cold water, or, if necessary, chopped ice, wrapped in a cloth.
10. If the horse is off his feed, try him with two quarts of oats mixed with bran, and a little water; and add a little salt or sugar. Or give him oatmeal gruel or barley water to drink.
11. Watch your horse. If he stops sweating suddenly, or if he breathes short and quick, or if his ears droop, or if he stands with his legs braced sideways, he is in danger of a heat or sun stroke and needs attention at once.

12. If it is so hot that the horse sweats in the stable at night, tie him outside, with bedding under him. Unless he cools off during the night he cannot well stand the next day's heat.

The Clarity of Macaulay.
"Macaulay never wrote an obscure sentence in his life," said John Morley, and this is partly due to his exact use of words. There is never any doubt about his meaning. Macaulay began the use of Latin words at an early age. When four and a half years old he was asked if he had got over the toothache, to which question came this reply: "The agony is abated."—J. F. Rhodes in "Historical Essays."

Some women have an idea that fat may be eliminated by wearing tight corsets. This may be true to a certain extent provided the corset is specially designed and fitted to one's figure for that purpose. The average corset only succeeds in changing the position of the fat and does not get rid of it. The looser the corset is laced the easier it is to keep the weight down, for the woman who tightly laces her waist accumulates fat.

To hop is not only a fine thing for the hips but benefits the entire figure. First begin by lifting one foot from the floor and hopping about the room, first on one foot and then on the other. When one has learned to balance the body raise the foot until the hand may grasp the heel, and

Theatres

At Auditorium.
The bringing of "The Eternal City" to the Auditorium on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 9, 10 and 11, afternoon and evening, assures the people of Newark one of the really big Eastern productions whose sumptuousness can hardly be realized.

This great photo play will appeal to the lover of the silent drama. It is staged on an order of great magnificence, the like of which has never before been seen in this city. Adolph Zukor, president of the Famous Players Film Company, secured the rights of the play from Hall Caine, the great author, after he had steadfastly refused for years to allow the immortal novel to be filmed.

Mr. Zukor took an entire company of artists abroad through England and Italy and securing the services of thousands of Roman Carabiniers, secured with absolutely perfect detail every phase of Hall Caine's wonderful story. This was done by filming the master-work in the exact locale in which its stirring action occurs. All the scenes in the Vatican Gardens, in the Castle of St. Angelo the Coliseum, the famous Roman Forum, the beautiful Villa D'Est in Tivoli, and other historical spots in the Imperial City were reproduced with the consent of the highest ecclesiastical and civic authorities.

One performance of "The Eternal City" will be given each afternoon and evening, beginning at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m., during its production in this city. Do not miss witnessing this great film as it is one of the best ever brought before the American public.

Every Day Etiquette

"One of my young man cousins is coming to visit me, and as he has never been here before, he cannot very well take in around the city. Should I take him and am I supposed to pay the street car fares?" inquired Sadie.

"You should take your cousin around and do everything you can to make his visit an enjoyable one, but he should pay the fares and admission fees," replied her friend.

A German boy would be a rainbow if it included all the colors of the various kingdoms, principalities or states of the German empire. The black and white and the eagle in the German flag are Prussian, and in the staff head corner is the canton, black, white and red representative of the North German confederacy, which was established in 1867. The colors of Bavaria are blue and white; Hanover, yellow and white; Saxony, white and green; Wurttemberg, black and red; Mecklenburg-Schlegel, red and yellow and blue; Brunswick, blue and yellow; Saxe-Coburg Gotha, green and white; Schaumburg-Lippe, blue, red and white. The colors of Waldeck are black, red and yellow; Pomerania, blue and white; Baden, red and yellow; Hesse, red and white; Hanover, yellow and white.—Washington Star.

Your Boys and Girls

To amuse a child who is slightly ill or kept indoors by storm get out the encyclopedia and turn to the pages of flags printed in various colors. Show the child the page and suggest that you both try to make some flags in the colors shown.

When I tried it with great success I found I had some scraps of saten and cambric left over from fancy work which served the purpose admirably. Of course any other material would do, and even colored paper pasted on the background of the flag, would do all right. The most used colors are red, white and blue, which will not only make our own flag but are used also in the merchant flag of Germany, the ensign of France and in several others. Yellow and green are the colors next most prominently used.

The opening session of the convention will be held tonight when Bishop Luther B. Wilson, of New York, the president and the Rev. P. A. Baker, of Westerville, Ohio, the general superintendent, will deliver their annual reports at two meetings to be held simultaneously in different halls on the convention pier. John G. Woolley, of Madison, Wis., will address both gatherings on "The Spirit of the Road." Bishop Wilson will open one meeting while Bishop G. M. Matthews of Dayton, Ohio, will preside at the other.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE INSURANCE SOCIETY BECOMES INSOLVENT.

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, July 6.—The business of the American Temperance Life Insurance Association of New York, which was organized in 1889 to provide life insurance for total abstainers has been made insolvent by the admission as policy holders of "moderate drinkers," its officers assert. The state department of insurance has taken charge of its affairs. No one has been posted on the door of the main office here announces this fact.

A representative of the insurance department said the concern owed about $80,000 in death claims and there were no funds to pay 1,000 or more living policyholders.

Frank Delano, formerly president of the association, said the latest financial loss was due to a modification of its principles so as to permit moderate users of intoxicating liquors to become policyholders.

"The deaths in this class were fifty per cent. more than among the totally temperate," he declared.

OFFICER ESCAPES FROM JURISDICTION OF A PRIZE COURT

(Associated Press Telegram) Hingham, Wash., July 6.—Search was being made today for Walter H. Page, supercargo of the schooner Annie Larsen, which was seized when it put in here ten days ago with a cargo of munitions of war. Page eluded his guards yesterday and escaped in one of the vessel's boats.

He was a model prisoner and gained the confidence of the two deputies guarding him and the cargo of the Annie Larsen.

Page's desertion of the ship complicates affairs as no one can be found to make claim for the cargo.

STRIKE LEADER WOUNDED AS HE ANSWERED BELL

(Associated Press Telegram) Chicago, July 6.—Charles H. Johnston, secretary and treasurer of the Brickmakers' union, was shot twice below the heart as he answered a ring of his doorbell early today. Physicians said the wounds probably would be fatal. His assailant, whom he failed to recognize, escaped.

Police attributed the shooting to labor troubles. The brickmakers have been thrown out of employment as a result of the action of the construction material interests in refusing to deliver building supplies until the strike of 16,000 carpenters is settled.

APOLOGY

MADE BY RUSSIA TO SWEDEN FOR "ACCIDENTALLY" VIOLATING HER NEUTRALITY

Pursued German Vessel and Discharged Shell, During a Fog Within 3 Mile Limit.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, July 6.—The Russian government has apologized to Sweden for the violation of the latter nation's neutrality by the fact that a stray shell "accidentally" fell within Swedish waters owing to a fog during the pursuit of German vessels, says a dispatch from Petrograd.

The German mine layer Albatross, which was badly punished by Russian warships in the naval battle in the Baltic sea on July 2, died into Swedish territorial waters where she was run aground near Henwiker. Russian ships pursued her, it was reported, within the three mile limit.

This incident was likened to the affair off the coast of Chile, when British cruisers sank the German cruiser Dresden. Great Britain apologized to Chile for this violation of neutrality.

ROME SAFE FROM ZEPPELIN RAIDS, IT IS BELIEVED

(Associated Press Telegram)

Rome, July 5.—(Via Paris, July 4.)—Discussing the possible menace to Rome from an Austrian air raid, the Giornale d'Italia expressed the belief that the Italian capital may consider itself virtually safe because it is 235 miles from Pola and 213 miles from the island of Lissa, the Austrian bases. The airships of Austria have found it difficult to cover more than 315 miles in a single flight and it is regarded as impossible for them to make a raid on Rome and then complete the return journey.

INDIAN'S TRIAL FOR MURDER WAS BEGUN IN DENVER

(Associated Press Telegram)

Denver, Colo., July 6.—The trial of Tse-Ne-Gat, (Everett Hatch), a Platte Indian, charged with the murder of Juan Chacon, a herder, was begun here today in federal court.

About forty witnesses, many of whom are Indians, have been summoned to testify in the case. The killing took place in March, 1914, in Montezuma county, Colo.

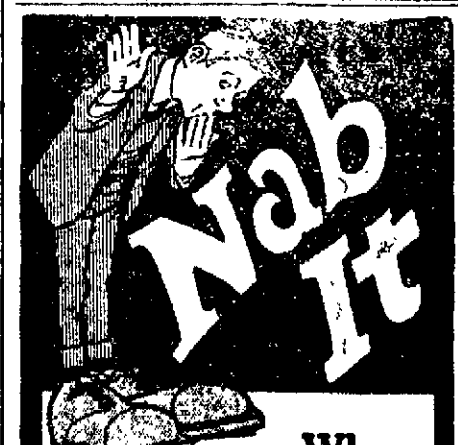

Efforts by a posse of United States deputies, under U. S. Marshal Aquila Neheiler, last February to arrest Tse-Ne-Gat resulted in armed resistance by recalcitrant Pintos led by "Old Polk," father of the defendant. Several Indians and a member of posse of deputies were killed in battles near Bluff, Utah.

General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, was sent from Washington, after a truce had been ordered and journeying only with his orderly and guides, sought out the Indians in their mountain rendezvous and induced them to accompany him to Salt Lake City. Several Indians were later released, but Tse-Ne-Gat was brought to Denver and has been in a sanatorium awaiting trial. According to physicians, he is suffering from tuberculosis.

GERMANY

 that this will be one of the most difficult points to settle unless arrangements are made for the safety of ships engaged solely in passenger traffic.

The fact that some cargo ships have already made repeated attempts to escape is being taken into account by officials in connection with this subject.

Secretary Lansing stated today that a dispatch had been received from Ambassador Gerard giving information of the views of the German government on submarine warfare, but this government has not replied.

While declining to discuss the contents of the dispatch, Mr. Lansing let it be known that the proposals contained in it were similar to those which have already been discussed in Berlin press dispatches, indicating a desire to clarify the situation before making formal answer.

Mr. Lansing stated that there had been no exchange of views as yet and that no negotiations had been entered into by the American government. Mr. Gerard's dispatch has been transmitted to President Wilson, where the decision rests as to the character of instructions to be given the American ambassador in answering the inquiries of Berlin officials.

The effort of the German government to learn informally what proposals would be acceptable to the United States government so that when embodied finally in the German reply, they might be acceptable as a basis for negotiations, created the distinct impression in official quarters that the dispute between the two governments eventually would be amicably resolved.

The message from Mr. Gerard was somewhat garbled in transmission. It gave no indication as to the time when the formal reply would be ready. What Herr von Jagow, the German foreign minister, suggested in his conference with Ambassador Gerard as a means of meeting the American point of view on submarine warfare, was not revealed at the state department. It is known, however, that the announcement of the German government is to insure the safety of Americans traveling on passenger ships and at the same time maintain the effectiveness of the submarine as a destroyer of ships primarily engaged in contraband traffic. The United States has claimed the right for its citizens to travel on both passenger and cargo ships, holding that Americans who are members of the crews of the latter type of vessels should be removed to a place of safety before destruction.

Germany, it is understood, has proposed a joint system of inspection, through which it shall be established to the satisfaction of German consuls in the United States that belligerent ships sailing from American ports are primarily engaged in passenger traffic. Details are lacking as to whether Germany will consent to the carriage of any contraband on such vessels or whether guaranty shall be given that the amount of contraband transported is of a negligible character.

As for the treatment of cargo ships, officials are not clear how the American point of view, as expressed in its recent notes, can be observed unless German submarines before attacking undertake to transfer the crew to a place of safety in accordance with the naval prize codes of all nations. Now difficulties have arisen which now complicate the situation. These are the cases of the British liners Armouan and Anglo-Californian which cargo ships by making repeated efforts to escape justified attacks by the German submarines.

Comparatively no attention is being given in the informal discussions which have arisen to the case of ships flying American flags as complete immunity from attacks or in effect to guarantee such ships by Germany's most recent note. Officials here are gratified that no cases of mistaken attack have occurred in several weeks.

While no definite assurance has been given officials here believe that further attacks without warning will not be made against any vessels, whether of neutral or belligerent character at least until a means of insuring the safety of Americans on the high seas is agreed upon in the present negotiations.

Get "GETS-IT"—nothing else for corns. Look out for preparations made up to look for second like "GETS-IT." Only the genuine is good enough for your feet. Don't take a chance with substitutes which are perhaps positively dangerous. It makes you really feel foolish, after using toe-eating salts, corn-biting ointments, toe-banding bandages, blood-bringing razors, knives, files, scissors, jabbers and what-nots, when you apply just 2 drops of "GETS-IT" and see your corn vanish. The difference is divine.

No wonder you are mad when somebody tries to tell you that all your experience isn't so all. Nothing new for corns has been found since "GETS-IT" was born. All you need do is apply two drops on the corn. There's nothing to stick, burn, leave, or hurt. It's the corn-cure of the century, the new way, the sure, painless, simple way. FATALITIES

RESULTING FROM TWO DAYS' CELEBRATION SHOW INCREASE OVER 1914.

Nineteen Dead and 903 Injured—Fire Damages Also Greater—Latest Corrected Figures.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, July 6.—Nineteen persons dead and 903 injured was the nation's sacrifice to the two days' celebration of Fourth of July, according to corrected figures compiled today by the Chicago Tribune. These figures show an increase over the totals of 1914, when there were 12 persons killed and 879 injured. A large increase also was shown in the fire loss, the total for this year being $239,325, as compared with $99,545 last year. Causes of the fatalities this year were distributed as follows: Fireworks 9; Cannon 4; firearms 4; gunpowder 2. In Chicago the celebration was sanest in history. Only one person was killed, and two injured.

NO FATALITIES IN PHILADELPHIA FOR FIRST TIME IN YEARS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Philadelphia, July 6.—For the first time in four years no fatal Fourth of July accidents occurred in this city. Although a total of 160 cases due to firecrackers, and other explosives were treated yesterday and Sunday in the various hospitals, most of them were merely slight powder burns. In less than a score of the cases, are eyes or limbs endangered.

Last year there were four deaths and 237 accidents, in 1913 there were 250 accidents and one death, while in 1912 there were two deaths and 127 accidents.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J.
